

The Pathway to Becoming a Physician

Topic: Planning for Medical School
When: Tuesday, Sept. 17, 6:00 – 8:00 p.m.
Where: Geisinger Commonwealth School of Medicine
525 Pine St., Scranton | Auditorium

Are you a high school student interested in becoming a physician? Join us for a special session on planning for medical school while still in high school at Geisinger College of Health Sciences!

During this session, we will cover topics such as:

- What you can do in high school to solidify your career plan
- Choosing the right college, major, and courses
- Medical school requirements and becoming a competitive applicant
- Simulation patients and state-of-the-art medical school learning technology
- Specialty areas in medicine - cardiology, emergency medicine, pediatrics and more

Guest speakers will include current medical students, physicians, and pathways professionals who will share their insights on how to stand out as a competitive applicant.

Don't miss this valuable opportunity to start planning for your future in medicine.

Space is limited, so RSVP HERE to secure your spot or scan the code below. Contact Maureen Murtha at mjmurtha1@geisinger.edu or 570-614-9457 for more information. We look forward to seeing you there!
